That isn't love that you have, it's just like on the tv. Or maybe on a movie, a love that leaves you there empty. Know that that's not love you see, a love that leaves you there empty. Love isn't a fading word that one might say. Love isn't a long, long kiss or something that you make. Love never ever seeks itself. It serves when been spat on, even in bad health. Cause you love her for what you get. You've loved a long time, But that's the wrong kind. We see it almost everywhere. Does fashion own morality? it's love that's in the movies, a love that leaves you there empty. Know that that's not love you see, a love that leaves you there empty. Love isn't a fading word that one might say. Love isn't a long, long kiss or something that you make. Love never ever seeks itself. It serves when been spat on, even in bad health. Cause you love her for what you get. You've loved a long time, But that's the wrong kind. So are you listening? I've got so much to say, you gotta understand that love isn't this way. Love lasts more than one day. Sex mass marketing, it's in the magazines, it's in society, in the majority. But that's not love that you see. Oh.
