Please put on that record again and I will put on that shirt you've been wearing around you've been wearing around it's times like this I think too much
it's times like this I think too much
oh please don't think too much
oh please don't think too much cause I can't let you in cause these walls have been built no I can't let you in cause these wall have been built but you said I'm out on a ledge come stand with me

I need the company
I need the company

My face has turned red
But it's not from something you just said Oh I'm blushing on the inside It's those damn green eyes And panel by panel and piece by piece this all fits together but its not what you think Oh there I go again
Oh there I go again

You said I'm out on a ledge
Come stand with me
I need the company
I need the company and I'm trying to get you in I'm trying to get you over and
I'm trying to get you in
I'm trying to get you over and
I'm trying to be brave
I'm trying to be brave
I'm trying to be brave
I'm trying to be brave

But you're listing to every word I say and I'm trying not to give it away

I like to keep my cards so close You like to keep that cunt so long And all my broken hearts and all my forgettable false starts well you can have them right now but you better not look away You can have 'em right now but you better not look
away
this me trying to be brave
You can have 'em right now but you better not look
this is me trying to be brave
