Get off of work, come home,
Pass out.
My life's become this cancer,
That's crawling through my skin
And after me.
I can't give up, I won't let down.
And though it seems relentless,
I can be relentless too.

Now you're better than you think you are,
Show these people what you were born to do.
'Cause I believe in you
I'd bet my life on you.
Forget the awful words they said
Lost your dream, they lost their heads.
It's funny what fear does to you.

I can't seem to escape,
My days have become nightmares
And dreams of running away.
I can't give up, I won't let down.
And though it seems relentless,
I can be relentless too.

Now you're better than you think you are,
Show these people what you were born to do.
'Cause I believe in you
I'd bet my life on you.
Forget the awful words they said
Lost your dream, they lost their heads.
It's funny what fear does to you.

Ooh, and I bet you'll find
This noose was...
And I'll bet you'll find
It was too tight.
Not yet, not yet.

Now you're better than you think you are,
Show these people what you were born to do.
'Cause I believe in you
I'd bet my life on you.

Forget the awful words they said
Lost your dream,
They lost their heads
It's funny what fear does to you.
