The hour is drawing near as I approach the room.
Now fear will end and my life will continue.
These memories will fall, I'll never see you cry.
All I want is to live a normal life.
My eyes have yet to open and already I have wounds
that will never heal.
You let my heartbeat fade.
I shut my eyes.
The light fades as I descend into a perfect state.
I shut my eyes.
The light fades as I descend into a perfect state.
Father, embrace in silence.
Do't ever climb down to face the truth.
I try to scream but it is without sound.
Heal the scars that present themsleves.
Longing from seperation from your past.
YOU MURDERER.
YOU LET ME BLEED.
YOU MURDERER.
YOU HAVE FORSAKEN ME.
I see through unclouded eyes.
I see innocent eyes suffer.
My eyes have watched the wounded begging to touch
the ground
And to be cradled in warmth.
They would scream but they have no words,
They have only silence.
