Face the day and face the night
And hold you close and hold you tight Did I keep you satisfied or did I let you Down
____?and Airplanes blowing from the South
We use someone's baby now
Fields are green and oceans blue Sweeter things and bitter fruits
Only make me think of you yeah you waiting in the sky

Hurricanes and fire planes never brought you down
We use someones baby now
When look in, in mirror you see my shadow on the wall
And now you see things a little clearer Your feelin two foot tall?

Heaven held in between yellow roses at your feet far from all the city street chatter in the night Golden years slip away buried in the ground C'mon and hold yourself up to the light and do not make a sound

You know your Momma taught you what to love but never taught you how, We use Somebody's Baby now

And when look in, in mirror you see my shadow on the wall
Oh can you hear me babe
I need you here and Someone's baby now and you can can let go and you know when you can you can let go
