I haven't seen you lately, don't know what life has made of you
I'm always going to be your friend, what is that to you I've become a stranger but I want to let you in So much has changed I don't know where to begin

I see right through you from beginning to the end
I see right through you, that's what made us
friends

You will always be my first love
You're with me in heart, space and time You're someone I still think the world of
But we got lost, we got lost into the wild
And I got lost, lost into the wild

I never felt that I was cool enough to be your friend I guess that's kind of funny don't know how the story ends
I've never been a pleaser, I've never been a fan But I've never felt any better than when you took my hand

I see right through you, from beginning to the end
I see right through you, that's what made us
friends

You will always be my first love
You're with me in heart, space and time
You're someone I still think the world of
And I got lost, lost into the wild

live
live
So fast so fast
And we got lost in the past

You will always be my first love

You're with me in heart, space and time
You're someone I still think the world of
And I got lost, I got lost into the wild

live

live

So fast so fast

And we got lost in the past

So fast so fast

And we got lost in the past
