I'm losing my heart to you
And I've grown attached to you
There's something I've got to say
And I know you're going away
But if you ask me to I'll spend tonight with you

I'm losing my heart to you
And I've grown attached to you
There's something I've got to say
And I no you're going away
But if you ask me to I'll fall in love with you

And please say that we can still dance
And I'll be able to breathe again
And please say that this will not be our last chance
And I will be able to breathe again

Now crying myself to sleep hurts nothing like seeing you leave
It's time that I told the truth
I cannot go on without you

And please say that we can still dance
And I'll be able to breathe again
And please say that this will not be our last chance
And I will be able to breathe again
