You were a picture of happiness
When you posed with me
But there's another side, that you'd try to hide,
And I'd try not to see

The sun set so long ago
On those bright warm days
And you can cross my mind any time, baby
But look both ways
Look both ways

It's quiet around me now
So still off your shore
Like glass on top once the ripples stop
I can see so much more

A bright warm face
You got a light to shine, once you made it mine
Our time and our place

But the sun set so long ago
On those bright warm days
And you can cross my mind any time, baby
But look both ways
Look both ways
