You give me that look, you give me that smile
The "danger" sign goes on
When you give me that rope, you give me that mile
I'm pumped enough to run, enough to run

Call out directions, if you think I might be lost
Just lead me on, lead me on Yeah, and if I run too fast just reel me in and fly on past
'Cause you're the one, you are the one

You know I should've learned much more than this by now
Oh, I should be so much older
Pandora's Box is open and I can't resist
That girl, you know I told her, and told her, and told her

It's a little bit black, a little bit white
A little mixed up in between, it's all mixed up
It's a little bit loose and a little uptight
But it looks all right to me
All right, yeah, now it looks all right

Growing up fast, growing up strong
Living the life you lead, the life you lead
Oh, it's a little bit right and a little bit wrong
But it's a little of what you need
Oh, it's a little of what, of what you need
