Close your eyes, come with me
And we soon will be
In the wonderful world of the young

Hearts remain 17
Leaves are ever green
In the wonderful world of the young

Fools may deny it; wise men know the truth
They have discovered that love is youth

Take this heart that I give
And we'll always live
In the wonderful world of the young

In the wonderful world of the young

In the wonderful world of the young

Fools may deny it; wise men know the truth
They have discovered that love is youth

Take this heart that I give
And we'll always live
In the wonderful world of the young
