You're my forgiveness left unsaid
You took the fears inside my head
And laid them on our kitchen table
Nothing to be afraid of.

You're the saviour that I prayed for
So of course there's room here
For you and your white horse.

You're my superman in plain clothes
Your X-ray eyes can read my mind
You already know
Your theme song's always playing on my stereo
You're incognito, Superman in plain clothes

Superhero

You drive me crazy with the way
You come home windblown every day
And tell me how you took the world on.
The bad guys had me in free fall
But just in time you saved me from it all.

You're my superman in plain clothes
Your X-ray eyes can read my mind
You already know
Your theme song's always playing on my stereo
You're incognito, Superman in plain clothes
Superhero
