"Crucible Of Creation"

Before the stars ever burned, before the existence ever
churned
Billions of years in the past saw an ever expanding blast

From a singularity comes all that will ever be

Crucible of creation, there was nothing and then there was Crucible of Creation power to cast the formation

From that singularity emanates a violent heat Beyond mortal agility burning at trillions of degrees

Crucible of creation, there was nothing and then there
was
Crucible of creation power to cast the formation

Before the light, it's makers plan precise Pure energy into matter, not truly infinite With a finite beginning and a cold black frozen end

From nothing comes everything, out of nothing

Before the stars ever burned, before the existence
churned
Billions of years in the past saw an ever expanding

From a singularity comes all that will ever be

was
Crucible of creation power to cast the formation

Matter time and space created all at once Welcome to the darkest age, the time before the suns

Crucible of creation, there was nothing and then there

was

Crucible of creation power to cast the formation

This is the finger of god bringing pure perfection

Emergence of everything the universe has begun
