Let me take you on a journey, Let me take you out to find
Let me take you to no boundaries through the deepest parts of minds
Close your eyes, this is the entrance Close your eyes,
and cross the path
Close your eyes, drift out slowly and let me work my craft

I mimic the delusion when I drowned your fears I create the trepidation that can leave you in tears
I weave the web that you could never fathom Enchanting, bewitching, enthralling is what I am

I manipulate the thoughts that are flowing through your head
I twist and I turn them a dream god is what I am
A dream god is what I am

A new day is dawning your eyes open wide feeling relief all their is, is a sigh
The nightmare is over at least for now

I make the dreams, Only I know how

The sky now darkens, the clouds roll in the same feeling suddenly begins with that same sigh your eyes reopen wide for I was only playing tricks with your mind

Grasp my hand and let me full fill your fantasies In my world I control the line between dreams and reality I make the rules that control whether or not you will open you eyes again

Let me take you on a journey, Let me take you out to
Let me take you to no boundaries through the deepest
parts of minds
Close your eyes, this is the entrance Close your eyes,
and cross the path
Close your eyes, drift out slowly and let me work my

craft

A dream god is what I am

A dream god is what I am
