In the land of the dead to the west of the Nile remains the great Kings preserved for the spirits, resting forever guarded by Hamor Protector of all that lie in the valley

Four Goddesses, watching over the, sarcophagus inside the embalmed peaceful, eternally

In the future the spirits return to the body beginning the journey for the afterlife keeping belongings that once were their own

To live with the gods in the other land

Entombed, in his lair awaiting the coming beneath the earth, behind stone walls awaken to live, once again

In the valley of the Kings they stay in the tombs of gold is where they lay forever gazing in the dark

Body wrapped in silken cloths force felt throughout the pyramid walls dreams of eternal life [repeat last verse]
