

Aneirin

"A Lesson In Common Time"

Visit "A Lesson In Common Time" on MotoLyrics.com

I'll die again, I'll go away, but I can't see where I'm going

I'll die again, you'll always stay, just so I'll love you

Take me away

I'm half way there but not right on time

I need a love, you are love

You're so consistent

You are alone the greatest love

I'm inconsistent

Open hands dripping blood, blood you're hanging

You hung for all my blackest sins, God it's killing me

Broken cross bloody cross, love you know me

You bled for all my blackest sins, Jesus you know love

Take my heart oh God, my hands raised to the sky

Take every part of me

I don't want to leave without this freshly cut incision, cleaned up

Father give me hope to glow within my eyes

We will write it on our wrists, in letters bold and black

And we'll say, tell us just what bleeding is

We need a love, you are love

You're so consistent

You are alone the greatest love

We're inconsistent

Father give me hope to glow within my eyes

Give me strength, to make it out alive

Give me hope to glow within my eyes

Give me strength, to make it out alive

Give me Jesus

Give me Jesus

Visit Aneirin page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

