I never meant to say that i think we're better off this way this has become so routine a weight that brings me down I think its time this all needs to be tossed out the door its getting the best of me, its killing me this one can't go on this time we've both come undone so this is what we've come to and its over your eyes, your heart, they tell a different story you can't bring me down this weight can't bring me down i will not succumb to this losing fight this weight, this strife, it's over
