I heard you, you were back in town
But before me you were playin round
You left a trail of broken hearts

And now your back and asking all my friends
How I've been and how can you fit in
But I can't go through that again

I knew you were a player
I thought that I could change ya
But now I see I was wrong

So keep on ballin baller
I won't disrupt your holler
Baby it won't be long

[Chorus]
Somebody's gonna break your heart in two
Somebody's gonna do the things you do
Someday somebody will give you a lesson in love
So baby it's just a matter of time
Before your heart breaks like you broke mine
And your time is up
Are you ready for your lesson in love

You played me like I was your toy
But soon you'll cry just like a little boy
When you get back twice what you gave

So open up take your medicine
Get well soon repent of all your sin
And lie there in the bed that you made

Have you ever heard
That you'll get what you'll get what you deserve
Play with fire and you get burned

So, baby watch your back
Cause you finally met your match
Soon it will be your turn

[Repeat Chorus x2]
