You always try to change me
I see what's going on
I understand what's happening
It didn't take me that long

I could try and pack my bags
I could try and turn away
I could run a million miles
But I could never fight the danger coming my way

It's gonna turn into a ballistic affair
Lock all the doors and cry, you fight like you don't care
What happened to the days when you said "I love you"

It's gonna turn into a ballistic affair

Don't try to lie to me
It ain't gonna work
I see right through your words
And they don't even hurt

I could try and pack my bags
I could try and turn away
I could run a million miles
But I could never fight the danger coming my way

Chorus
