Protection of their sick obsession's what they want from us
Protection by means of bloody wars become their greatest lust
Tripling their profits as we march right into war
Led are soon dead soldiers never knowing what's in store
They're looking down upon us sheep while we bow down to them
We die defending the country that's fucked us once again
They'll see us on the battlefield, they'll watch us in our homes
We realize that they're watching but our apathy has grown
They champion the living they'll march to our grave
They'll miss our blind devotion and the taxes that we gave
This isn't fucking patriotism it's marketing and selling war
While these country's fucking morons only yearn for more and more
Can't we see this sickness is a goddamn government game
Vietnam and desert storm were both the fucking same
The conditioning propaganda is their most effective tool
They control these sightless masses who believe the people rule
This perverted patriotism is really fucking sick
The world's population sacrificed for making wallets thick
They have the masses brainwashed "we're so lucky to be free"
They won't remove the blindfold fearing someday we may see
For if the people see the truth they might stand up and fight
The rich avoiding at all costs the danger of this sight
So kick back and fulfill their needs and thank their watchful eye
We'll finally have our freedom underneath them when we die
We sing about our freedom while our lives are sold and bought
We sit and count our blessings while our fallen "heroes" rot
So listen to your leaders and pray that Jesus saves
Cause it seems that all they do, they do for fucking graves
