secured limitations
you created this thing you call sin a guide for the undisciplined sheep through the pain and denial the pleasure reaped a freedom contained within a shell and all that's without you call hell you scorn our existence unclean despising our ways shall the unclean come and infect you for our ways, disheveling your hold and the random perplexing the fled behind the walls of concrete, they hide secured limitations

from uncertainties the god-mind knows and from the nothingness, all the wines flow the affluence, the-mother's gift but you can't, through the concrete

shall the unclean come and inflect you for the heathens have chosen a different light and the vision of the all through the inner sight for the freedoms and prisons are in the mind secured limitations

from the uncertainties the god-mind knows
and from the nothingness all the wines flow the affluence, the god-mother's gift but you can't see, through the concrete
