I thought the other day of how we used to kiss
To be honest girl, it nearly made me sick
It's not because I hate you or I want you to die
But I dragged this out. I should have said goodbye

You said "let's work this out"
But things don't change
And I can't help it
It's just not the same

And so I'm changing all my passwords now
Anything to lock you out
Forget about the things I said
Cause I was messing with your head
Don't try to tell me that I've lost it all
Don't flatter yourself girl
Cause whilst you're crying
I've been moving on

I heard the other day that you got with my friend
To be honest girl it just made me laugh
So don't pick up the phone and go crazy at me
Cause you're just as bad and everyone can see

And you say that I have changed
Well yes, that's true
You see I'm happy and better off
Without you

And so I'm changing all my passwords now
Anything to lock you out
Forget about the things I said
Cause I was messing with your head
Don't try to tell me that I've lost it all
Don't flatter yourself girl
Cause whilst you're crying
I've been moving on

And so I'm changing the passwords now
Anything to lock you out
Forget about the things I said

Cause I was messing with your head
Don't try to tell me that I've lost it all
Don't flatter yourself girl
Cause whilst you're crying
I've been moving on
