Lost Continent

Don't say you've seen and heard it all before That all of this is nothing new Don't try and tell me that I am off course I'm looking for the same thing as you

The lost continent of love
the lost continent of love
so near; but it's so hard to touch
the lost continent of love

There's something here that I don't understand you search for signs like some crusade when one seems to point to that promised land why do you always turn away

The lost continent of love
the lost continent of love

so near but it's so hard to touch
the lost continent of love

You say you think you'd better let it go you don't take chances anymore if you don't take it you may never know what it's like to be walking on that shore

The lost continent of love
the lost continent of love
so near but it's so hard to touch
the lost continent of love

Lost continent of love
the lost continent of love so near but you're so hard to touch
the lost continent of love of love, of love, of love
