DisneyWorld looks great in the daytime
Great in the afternoon
Some of the boys got confused with the meantime
Had to find something to do
There's nothing wrong
With a little respite
You never learn
If you keep getting it right

DisneyWorld looks great in the daytime
Great in the evening too
Some of the boys use the time just to theorise
How to find something to do
There's nothing wrong
With making plans
We've all the time in the world
On our hands

Can someone stop the afternoon?
Only if there's something better to do now

DisneyWorld looks great when we're laughing
Falling down, rolling on the ground
Can't even stand up for one other reason
Tell everyone what a roll we're on

There's nothing wrong with Louis Mayer
You try too hard
You'll only run out of breath
