One two, what we gonna do now that we're done
I know life goes on but we been together for so long We been true it all we had the best sex, we had the worse fights we had drama but it made me stronger And hopefully strong enough to go thru life without eachother

In differend directions we learn our own lessons
In differend directions some two things must happen
What is meant to be will be for you and for me Buth the answer to our questions is in differend
directions

Three, four, I don't know what the future got in store for both of us
But atleast we can take with us all of the memorie's Like the first kiss and the first hug like the first time that we made sweet love
Oh so special but now we got this mess to handle.

In differend directions we learn our own lessons
In differend directions some two things must happen

Buth the answer to our questions is in differend
directions

See I'll never find u in him, and u'll never find me in her It's just one of those life xperience a lesson learned.
See I'll never find u in him and u'll never find me in her
It's just one of those life xperience I have learned.

In differend directions we learn our own lessons
In differend directions some two things must happen
Buth the answer to our questions is in differend
directions
