Verse 1

An Autumn branch taps on my window in the morning wind
I Wake to feel the knife turn in my heart again
The sun reflects off our frame and hides your face
But all these thoughts of you the light can't erase

Chorus

I'm feeling fine women and wine
Fooling myself as I keep my heart blind
Hoping memories can die
It's taking some time to find peace of mind
But when I don't dream I do alright
So I'll stay awake tonight

Verse 2

Sitting silent on the pier hearing waves roll by Eyelids much too heavy under this midnight sky
Finish my bottle count the days we've been apart
While I'm with her tonight I'll wonder where you are

Chorus

Bridge

I'm moving on letting go of what's dead and gone
So don't you worry about me I'm never alone

Chorus
