Verse 1

Dark Curtains dance by the window
The air is cold tonight with the smell of snow
I should probably put some clothes on
I sit and think of us as I stare down a silent phone

Chorus

Too many nights have fallen since I felt your lips
I've lost the feeling of your fingertips
This house is broken and frozen through
The last lights gone out and I miss you
(Ooh-Ooh) x 2

Verse 2

Coffees cold burnt black don't want it anyway
Playing lines in my head of what I didn't say
Don't know that I'll ever forgive me
For loving you so much that I set you free

Chorus

Solo
