All this conversation has lifted my spirits
I will go to the park to make up my own mind
Silly, silly future it sits inside my spine
It will make a family resolved in your own kind

All I ever wanted is to be near a face
In the morning , in the morning
After the operation my heart will become erased
And I will miss you, I will miss you

Bleed, bleed, bleed, bleed, that's all I ever do
A built in sunroom for everyone to frame
I'm so lucky to have a great career
But after all the fuss I just wanted to have you

All I ever wanted is to be near a face
In the morning , in the morning
After the operation my heart will become erased
And I will miss you, I will miss you

I haven't thought enough to cry
No I haven't thought enough to cry
