Your words get me under you like shooting me in the heart
I'm more than a child with no worries
I'm underestimated

What keeps me breathing
Cos I want the world to know
That so many times

I've wrestled with your angels
And it seems like they're not moving anywhere
I've wrestled with your angels
And I don't believe in angels no more

See me don't leave me alone
And you say i could sing
You to sleep
We could dance, I could love you evermore
And I know, what is spent
Isn't lost, I believe you'll come around before too long

What keeps me breathing
Cos I want the world to know
That so many times

I've wrestled with your angels
And it seems like they're not moving anywhere
I've wrestled with your angels
And I don't believe in angels no more
