How many times you say I'm through with this and you mull it over

How many times you say I'm stickin' to this and you pull
it over

How many times you say I'm finished with this and it starts all over

How many times you say I'm movin' to this but it won't move over

mull it over

How many times you say I'm stickin' to this and you pull
it over

How many times you say I'm finished with this but it
starts all over

move over

How many times you say I've had it today I'm just picking clovers

Who have seen the other side of unused time, the numbest of feeling

mull it over

How many times you say I'm stickin' to this and you pull
it over

starts all over

move over

How many times you say I've had it today I'm just
picking clovers

Who have seen the other side of unused time, the
numbest of feeling

How many times you wait but nothing today and evening is over,

Sun has gone and made a glowing line in your pretty brown eyes

If you fill up your heart, it spills outside

You find everything inside the heart on top of the hive
And you'll fly like a dart, you won't go wide
Even all the impossible places you go in your life

How many times you say I've had it today I'm just
picking clovers
Who have seen the other side of unused time, the
How many times you wait but nothing today and
evening is over,
Sun has gone and made a glowing line in your pretty
brown eyes

If you fill up your heart, it spills outside
You find everything inside the heart on top of the hive
And you'll fly like a dart, you won't go wide
Even all the impossible places you go in your life

If you fill up your heart, it spills outside
You find everything inside the heart on top of the hive
And you'll fly like a dart, you won't go wide
Even all the impossible places you go in your life
Life

If you fill up your heart, it spills outside
You find everything inside the heart on top of the hive
And you'll fly like a dart, you won't go wide
Even all the impossible places you go in your life
Hive
