Someday babe I'm gonna make you mine
And in the days between our love and hate
I'll keep your heart with mine
Until the day must come and I must leave you stranded in a haze
Until the day does come and you must see how I display my name

So lay down
Let it come
And resign your heart today
To get blown away

Someday babe were gonna have to try
All through these days as we are suffering
To keep our hearts in mind
Until the day is done
And we can bid this dying love goodbye
Until this course has run
And we can leave this memory behind

So lay down
Just let it come
And resign your heart today
To get blown away
