I shouldn't have done that,
I should have pretended not to know like I didn't see it, like I couldn't see it I shouldn't have looked at you in the first place
I should have run away
I should have pretended I wasn't listening like I didn't hear it, like I couldn't hear it I shouldn't have heard your love in the first place Without a word, you made me know what love is
Without a word, you gave me your love
Made me fill myself with your every breath
Then you ran away
Without a word, love leaves me
Without a word, love abandons me
Wondering what to say next
My lips were surprised
It came without a word
Why does it hurt so much?
Why does it hurt continuously?
Except for the fact that I can't see you anymore, and that you're not here anymore otherwise, it'll be just the same like before
Without a word, you made me know what love is

Without a word, you gave me your love
Made me fill myself with your every breath
Then you ran away
Without a word, love leaves me
Without a word, love abandons me
Wondering what to say next
My lips were surprised
Without a word, tears starts falling down
Without a word, my heart is broken
Without a word, I waited for love
Without a word, love hurts me
I've become transparent, I've become a fool and I cry just by looking at the sky
Without a word, separation finds me
Without a word, the end comes to me
It tool my heart by surprised
To send you away unexpectedly
It came without a word

Without a word, love appears
Without a word, love vanishes Like a fever Iâ€™ve had, maybe all I have to do is hurt for a while
Because in the end, the only thing that remains are scars
