You watch me through the walls withered in my dreams and cloaked in make beleive.
strip me of my sleep locked inside the mirror and paper back memories

Please gouge out my eyes and wait for me to fall
Would you risk the signal of being heard.

Time has lost its touch transparent to your gaze and fixes on my soul. the light reflects the truth proving misproportion that curves around my hands

Please take away my breath and wait for me to fall
As I lay I wonder If were real at all

Were swept in this wastland Bleach the sun for what its worth your pulse slowly surrounds me
I need to know you felt this first should thoughts pull the trigger
to deliver this bullet shaped kiss
Now the imprint reflects on you life eternal in ambient bliss

BOOM!! BABY!!

Ive Been dragging your ghost(Been dragging your ghost)
All Night Alright! Lets do it lets share skin tonight I want you to scream my name as you claw my back to shreds youll never forget the taste of the barrel of a loaded gun

Were swept in this wastland
Bleach the sun for what its worth
your pulse slowly surrounds me
I need to know you felt this first
should thoughts pull the trigger
to deliver this bullet shaped kiss
Now the imprint reflects on you
life eternal in ambient bliss
