Everybody come on
Lift your hands in one big happy song
Cause I've decided today
Circumstances be what they may
It's going to be a good day
Let's talk about love
Let's talk about generosity, feeling free
Let's talk about choice on this good day
Is there really a place?
Is there really a space where people give without Expectation, compensation, gratification, remuneration?
And are you really free
If you serve no master but you're a slave to You're fastened to your desire and your greed?
I know you can do better than that
I know you can
I know you can do better than that
I know you can
I'm talking bout something that's bigger than you
I'm talking bout a love that died for you
I'm talking bout something that's bigger than me
So don't you wanna see don't you wanna feel
What it's really like to be free
It takes a brave man indeed to say What's wrong with you is probably What's wrong with me
And what is it you live for?
Is it really something more Than just living for you?
And can you really choose
To live your own ideal truth?
A bit of this a bit of that
Just as long as it's comfortable
