I know a girl laying down
She's sleeping weeks at a time
When she wakes up she watches tv,
Counting cracks in the ceiling.

No I don't know what she's thinking,
So I gave up waiting for someone waiting,
Talking to someone staring.

I never come around
I never come around
I left her for 15 years behind
Girls laying down
Never come around

So much for girls staying in,
Afraid of being needed and seen,
She watches the world on a screen
She's distant
God knows I've tried to leave her
Cause she's got a constant fever
I let it slip my mind

I never come around
I never come around
I left her 15 years behind
Girls laying down
Never come around

I know a girl laying down
No, I never waisted my time
We have something in common
She's as indifferent as I am.
