"No Way Out"

It's a sign of winter in the midst of June
Nothing left unbroken, someone spoke too soon
Already night falls, not even noon
Someone has been hurt badly in this room

No way out, no way out by forgetting and forgiving now
No way out, no way out now

All the days that ended, all the doors that closed
All the glass is broken, wish you never spoke
It's a sign of winter, your seasons never change
No one left to stay for, nothing left to say

No way out, no way out by forgetting and forgiving now
No way out, no way out now

No way out, no way out now
