Where am I?

On a cat walk paved in dreams

I used to stand so far away

I promised truth dishonestly
Now I stand here naked

And shaking and finally see

All I ever needed you already had
From outer space, it all looks the same

You can't see just how pretty you are

I know it's hard to not wear your guard

You're an angel in a different way

So stand up singing,

If you can see through this hate

And seek in a symphony of freaks
I grew up

Underneath the lampshade

Surrounded by the light

(?) jaded lullaby

And I am (?) but I am good

And I admit that I am weak

Peel the lids back from my eyes

So I can finally see me
From outer space, it all looks the same

You can't see just how pretty you are
I know it's hard to not wear your guard
You're an angel in a different way
So stand up singing,
If you can see through this hate
And seek in a symphony of freaks
I am honest when I'm safe
So I am trying my best
And I am trying my best
To not be so afraid
From outer space, it all looks the same
You can't see just how pretty you are
I know it's hard to not wear your guard
You're an angel in a different way
So stand up singing,
If you can see through this hate
And seek from outer space
It all looks the same
Can't you see just how pretty you are?
I know it's hard to not wear your guard
You're an angel in a different way
So stand up singing,
If you can see through this hate
And seek in a symphony of freaks, freaks
In a symphony of freaks, of freaks
