The decisions that you make
Along with your behavior is too much to take
'cuz what you say and what you do don't add up
You amaze me even more
With your excuses made a million times before
And if you'd say sorry
You'd make me worried too
'cuz that's not you
But you could say no, you could say no
I would play along
You could say yes, you could say i'm sure
And I would prove you wrong
And all of the times that you have been blinded
By your confidence
Quite unprepared for my defence
I told you so
If you talk to me i'm reassured
That if i disagree you won't let me be heard, oh no
Always black or white
You won't admit your mistakes, now
'cause there's too much at stake now
But you could say no, you could say no
I would play along

You could say yes, you could say i'm sure
And I would prove you wrong
And all of the times that you have been blinded
By your confidence
Quite unprepared for my defence
I told you so
And if you'd say sorry
You'd make me worried too
'cuz that's not you
But you could say no, you could say no
I would play along
You could say yes, you could say i'm sure
And I would prove you wrong
And all of the times that you have been blinded
By your confidence
Quite unprepared for my defence
But you could say no, you could say no
I would play along

You could say yes, you could say i'm sure
And I would prove you wrong
And all of the times that you have been blinded
By your confidence
Quite unprepared for my defence
I told you so
