

Anne Murray

"If He's Not You"

Visit "If He's Not You" on MotoLyrics.com

No one knows my love for love,
Though many things do for two.
But don't pretend
That he's a friend who used to.

Well, I blame myself
For every bruise
And then the things I do.
He can't help it if he's not you.

He wants nothing more than changin' things,
But I know he can't help it too.
He's a man any girl would be proud,
If there's a future.

And I don't know why
He keeps on forgiving me
For the things I couldn't do.
He can't help it if he's not you.

He holds me like you held me
He can't make me feel the same.
Though he's not the one I dream about,
He's not the one to blame.

And it's not for him
To give to me
For the love he dreamed for two.
He can't help it if he's not you.

And it's not for him
To give to me
For the love he dreamed for two.
He can't help it if he's not you.

He can't help it if he's not you.
He can't help it if he's not you...

Visit Anne Murray page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.
