I can't believe that you're honestly thinking of leaving me Cause I thought that leaving really wasn't even on your mind
I'm drowning in tears drowning constantly nearer to misery
Just bidin' my time while the glow from the wine makes a fool of me
Over and over I practice every day
What to say when I see you but when I see you my tears
get in the way
I spend my nights making up things I might have to say to you
To stop you from going yet keep you from knowing how
I feel
But till the light says goodbye to the night and your face I see
I'll just be bidin' my time while the glow from the wine makes a fool of me

Over and over I practice every day
What to say when I see you but when I see you my tears
Get in the way
I spend my nights making up things I might have to say
To you
To stop you from going yet keep you from knowing how
I feel
But till the light says goodbye to the night and your face I see
I'll just be bidin' my time while the glow from the wine
makes a fool of me
Bidin' my time while the glow from the wine make a fool of me
