"Cute Boys With Short Haircuts"

Seems like one of those "where did I go wrong?" days
Cant stop crying and I guess I'm not so strong days Lost the only guy I ever had Seems like one of those seems like ive been scared years
Cant get out of bed and life is kinda hard years
No one ever made me feel so sad

Now all I see is cute boys
With short haircuts walking by in a blur
And all I see is him and me
The way we always were
Thats how it goes when cute boys with short haircuts
Set your sences astir
He says he's true and ditches you for her

When you mind a man you don't wanna share him
Theres someone always thinking sh can spare him
Laying out the perfect little trail
You can play it safe sure you got a smart plan
Soon it's just another love can fall apart plan
Guess sometimes we all could use a man
Just stear us through

The cute boys with short haircuts
In a maze of their own
And here I am a little lamb lost and all alone

Surounded by the cute boys with short haircuts
Sitting high on some thrown
And here below unseen and so unknown

There was a time when everyone would notice me
Before whatever strength I had was gone
I want the things to be the way they used to be But nothing stops the world from moving on

And nothing stops the cute boys with short haircuts
Who surround me each day
Not so grand we're in demand

But pretty like they say
Not pretty like the cute boys with short haircuts
With the games that they play
The games of all the cute boys with broad shoulders
Loving all they survey and loving all these cute boys
With low voices and no morals and no interlect

Cute boys with short haircuts
Never looking my way
So here I sit and thats how it will stay
Thanks to shaterd trust and some slight disgust no more cute boys with short haircuts
And I guess thats just okay
