"I Know Your Waiting"

I was waiting
Watching every single move
On the wire I cling to

And I feel it
Like a cold and empty room
There was nothing left to lose

I know, I know your waiting
I'll see you again if its the last thing I can do
I know, I know its all that's true

I was wasted
Without everything I knew
I was lost without a clue

I know, I know your waiting
I'll see you again if its the last thing I can do
I know, I know its all that's true

And I wondered
So far and he brought me back to you
And I screamed at the sky and it turned
From black to blue

I know, I know your waiting
I'll see you again if its the last thing I can do
I know, I know its all that's true
That's true
That's true
That's true
That's true
That's true
That's true
That's true
That's true
That's true

Now I'm weightless
Staring out across the view
Over mountains I can't move
