I can't sleep
This is on the pavements
The haze of a long summer is over
This heat won't go away
This won't leave a way
Two by two we get away
In her arms I can rest

The sky is turning grey
But still I need some protection
From the light
A rain I've never seen before slides
Down the sides, fall and slide
Two by two

Leaves will fall with two lovers
On a slide to what they know to be the end
Believe to be the end
If only they knew how close they'd come
If only they knew
From this
Tearing and dragging and mess
Tearing and dragging and mess
Fall two by two

In her arms I can rest
In her arms I can rest
