Recorded before Designing a Nervous Breakdown released in April 2000 on a 7" by Devil in the Woods magazine

Well I know feeling strange - sometimes you're feeling strange
Outside she waits
So you know that we couldn't be stopped 100 ships in a parking lot
Where have all the pieces gone?

Looking for the edge of the world
Boy you hated his favorite girl
They would travel sideways - sideways in two's

Life makes fools speak in half-truth
Speak in half-truth - drowning away all our time
I never want to say anything to anyone
I've never meant that much to you

It's time to pack my bags and gather all
All of the courage I feel
To gather all the courage of kings the king of hearts
Only last ??????????????

Looking for the edge of the world
Boy you hated his favorite girl
They would travel sideways - sideways in two's

Life makes fools speak in half-truth
Speak in half-truth - drowning away all our time
I never want to say anything to anyone
I've never meant that much to you

Fell down in a weak spot
The water always tastes sweet
Life makes fools speak in half-truth
Speak in half-truth - drowning away all our time
I never want to say anything to anyone
I've never meant that much to you
