I never thought I would fall over
My feet having pushed under ground
But I fell down
Yes, over
I've been told that lovers shine brighter
I've travelled the darkest of roads
And nearing the end of each chapter
The book explodes
Taking off in the dawn
I'll never die young
And I can live to regret this
Others have loved the land
And those rings on your hands
Make the world come together
And it never does turn out right
On goes the fight.
Back in my head
Back in the back of my head
I'll never forget these songs
It's 4 am
All sound has worn thin
Those memories float along
Taking off in the dawn
I'll never die young
And I can live to regret this
Others have loved the land
And those rings on your hands
Make the world come together
And it never does turn out right
On goes the fight.
Back in my head
Back in the back of my head
I'll never forget these songs
It's 4 am
All sound has worn thin
Those memories float along
Back in my head
Back in the back of my head
I'll never forget these songs
It's 4 am
All sound has worn thin
Those memories float along
