Some other breath
Will certainly be yours
Not now
I beg you

And then something pushed me off
So I felt down from the height of my dreams
Still smiling at you
What was I thinking about?

Can you ever
Try to listen
To this lonely silence
That comes so rarely

And if there was a fire
That could save you
Then I swear I would burn in it
Whatever it takes

It seems so easy
But I can't fly and make myself believe
The time is gone and all that's left
Is nothing just the ashes of me

I am nothing just the ashes of me
I am nothing just the ashes of you

So stop me
Stop me from watching my dreams
Because they are never going to come alive
And thank you
Thank you for letting me know
When it's time so say it's over
Good bye

Another life
Will certainly be yours
Not now
I beg you
