Last November
The lights have been removed
And I remember
Everything but you

I'm falling apart
For so many reasons just to stop right here
And every day is the same
My mind is broken like a puzzle game
And here we go
One, two, three
Turn the page and see
There's no more me
Burning the pictures won't help
You have been overwhelmed with your lies
And well there's your demise

Last November
The lights have been removed
And I remember
Everything but you

I'm falling apart
Killing yesterdays
As we split our ways

Well this is goodbye
I can't stand this mess
Take back everything
That you have made
And it makes me sick
That I am the last
To know about lies
That you have said

So nothing
Can stop me now
Let's tear the past to pieces
And this time
I will scream loud
So everyone would hear this
Every moment picture's fading slowly

Letting it go won't hurt me more

Last November
The lights have been removed
And I remember
Everything but you

Just like ember
My heart is burning through
And I remember
Everything but you
