Oh I saw her yesterday just for a little while
And it nearly broke my heart to see her smile
But I acted as though we had just met
But she's still the only girl I can't forget
She's just another girl that's all she'll ever be
I've convinced almost everyone but me
I've mastered my emotions now and yet

She's still the only girl I can't forget
[steel + harmonica]
Though she doesn't mean a thing to me
She's just part of the best part of me
She belongs to someone now and yet
She's still the only girl I can't forget
She's just another girl...
