If you found something so unnecessary
Get down there's no one else to blame

I need something strong something extra strength
Have millions of materials to trade
If you came around enough

You'd be like a god to us
Like a drug dealer
Our souls out of trust
You threw it away

You'd be like a god to us
Like a fool's healer
Like a tarot card reader
Watch you throw it all away

I use to lie
That everyone I know
Wants to kill themselves
But everybody does

We need something strong something extra strength
Half millions of recordings that are fake

If you could offer only love

You'd be like a god to us
Like a drug dealer
Our souls out of trust
You threw it away

You'd be like a god to us
Like a fool's healer
Like a tarot card reader
Never gets right
If you throw it all away
