Come spread your dreams through golden years
I'll spread my plague of depressive screams
Go live your life as I leave mine
This autumn fever "fçâ,→" a lifeless line

By the glowing that burns out the sun
We will join our eternity
A sign of what's to come
Is a sign to leave our depravity

Come lift your wings from the soil of anger

I've lost the one with whom I shared my rings
From sadness I will rise
But even the strongest can't fly with a broken wing
I've lost my wonder to the ruler of the sky
Bloodred tears spilled for an eternity of time
What once were can never be
And what's to come you cannot see

Come lift your wings from the soil of anger
