So long as you and your family have more than enough to eat

So long as you're nice and comfy on your brand new 3 piece suit

So long as everybody's alright in "Coronation Street"

So long as the television's not showing another repeat

Don't care about the Third World struggling to survive

Cos you've got lots of money, new coat for the wife

Don't care about the Third World struggling to survive

Cos you've got lots of money, new coat for the wife

So long as there's plenty tits, page three of "The Sun"

So long as you and your wife are having lots and lots of fun

So long as you've got your holiday each and every year

So long as you've got your big fat gut filled with fucking beer

Don't care about the Third World struggling to survive

Cos you've got lots of money, new coat for the wife

Don't care about the Third World struggling to survive

Cos you've got lots of money, new coat for the wife

You don't really care what's happening elsewhere in the world

You never stop to think of children starving and dying because they can't afford food nor medicine

Do you realise that there's people that haven't seen such luxuries as cars, television and video

So just stop thinking of your fuckin' self for a change

And give a thought for the people a lot less fortunate than yourselves

And stop moaning about pretty little things like "Does my hair look alright?",

"Wonder if I can drink more beer than Bill?", "Can't wait to get my new car"

As long as there's people like you in the world there will always be people starving

You really make me sick, you really make me sick, fucking sick
